GENERAL SPORTING NOTES

President N. E. Young of the National Base Ball League has sent to all the officials of the twelve clubs of the organization the following letter in regard to the recent gift of the magnates:

"I have not yet quite recovered from my surprise, pleasure and excitement attending your grand presentation of such a magnificent gift, and words can but feebly express my thanks.

"Never in the history of the world could anything have been carried out more successfully. Everybody (even my children) knew all about it, except Mrs. Young and myself. When Mrs. Young was marched through the hall, and even after she was conducted into the large parlor, she thought there was to be a Masonic funeral and that the corpse lay on the table under the American flag. As for myself, I was dazed. My going into the room appears dazed. My going into the room appears now like a dream. After Mr. Soden commenced his address, for the first time I saw it all. I never in my life was so completely fooled as I was by Mr. Brush. When he rushed me out of our meeting room to meet a lady in the back parlor, he did not give me time to get my hat. The lady proved to be his lovely daughter, and, while she was very entertaining, and I was delighted to meet her, after a few minutes I remarked that I must beg to be excused, as I was obliged to return to parlor F. This only reminded her of about forty more questions that she had to ask about her Washington friends and my children in particular. She was acting under instructions, and played her part well, although I was nearly wild to return to parlor F, as my schedules were on the table and ready for report.

"Of the present itself, which has just arrived in two large boxes, it is simply magnificent beyond my limited power of description, and its beauty can only be excelled by my deep feeling of gratitude and appreciation of your great kindness. No amount of cold cash could have taken its place, for I feel sure that you had Mrs. Young in mind when you made your selection. She was the happiest little woman in New York, and well she deserves to share the pleasure and honor. She has shared my work for nearly twenty-four years to a greater extent than the outside world can ever know anything about. For now like a dream. After Mr. Soden com-

shared my work for nearly twenty-four years to a greater extent than the outside world can ever know anything about. For many years I never gave my official averages to the press until they bore her check mark as correct, and it was never disproved. For many years every league ball that has been thrown upon the diamond for use in a league championship game has been carefully weighed by her own hand and stamped and sealed under her immediate supervision.

"Well, the happlest day in my life, except my wedding day and the birthdays of each of my five children, has passed into history. It will ever be remembered as one of the 'greenest spots in life.' The beauty and great value of the gift is trivial as compared with the expressions of pure friendship, confidence and good will which accompanied it."

YALE'S NEW SHELL.

It will also have the other improvements, anti-crab, straight feather and correct angle dip of the sweep. The shell will measure sixty-eight feet, the general length being from sixty-one to sixty-four feet.

The planking of the shell will be of wood of unusual thinness, reinforced by a special preparation of silk or other fabric on the legislature. the inside, which will give strength with little weight. Yale's new shell will weigh less than 200 pounds, which is something exceptional. This includes all rigging and outriggers, which are generally not con-sidered in giving the weight of a boat.

FANCY CYCLING ON THE ICE.

An Interesting Exhibition at the Skating Rink. The exhibition of trick bicycle riding on the ice served to draw a large crowd to the Convention Hall icc rink last evening. Harry Park, the well-known bicycle expert of this city, was the performer, and his movements were both graceful and intricate. The wheel which he rode was an ordinary upright bicycle with the tire made of iron with points so as to prevent slipping on the slippery surface. The rear wheel was not a wheel at all, but simply a skate. This is probably the first time that any one has ever attempted to give an exhibition of fancy bicycle riding on the ice, and his rumerous fine tricks were fully appreciated by the large audience. He went through every evolution that he does on an ordinary floor, his riding of the single wheel being particularly fine.

This evening and Friday evening he will repeat his performance, while the Sham-rock and Montreal hockey teams of Canada rock and Montreal hockey teams of Canada will occupy the rink Saturday afternoon and Saturday night. In the afternoon they will play a game of la cresse, and at night a championship game of hockey. These teams are probably two of the finest hockey teams in the world, as Canada contains the rick of the globa in hockey players and pick of the globe in hockey players, and these two teams embrace the best in the deminion. The men who compose the teams are magnificent skaters, and some of them are fast enough to compare the them are fast enough to compete with the best in races. The men who are to take part in the races at the rink next week have begun to ar-rive, and those who frequent the rink at rive, and those who frequent the rink at the afternoon sessions may see Mosher, Joe Donoghue, Harley Davidson, John Davidson, and one or two others pacing around to get the swing of the track and limber up their muscles. These men are some of the fastest in the world, and the races are expected to be both exciting and Fifteen Colleges to Be in It.

These additional entries to the University of Pennsylvania relay races have been received: Temple College, Drexel Institute, Yale's New Departure In Regard State College and Washington College of Chestertown, Md. Fifteen colleges have accepted up to date. State, Bucknell and Dickinson have accepted in one class, with Franklin and Marshall to be heard from, and a favorable answer is expected. In an-other class Washington College, Pennsyl-vania College, Westminster College and St. John's College have accepted, with Muhlen-burg to be heard from. Harvard, Pennsyl-vania and Georgetown are in the champion-ship races, with more entries likely. Le-high has accepted and it is likely her class-mates. Cornell Columbia and Lafavette. mates, Cornell, Columbia and Lafayette, will send teams, as they were represented last year.

In still another class C. C. N. Y., U. N. Y. and Fordham have accepted, with Syracuse to be heard from. Johns Hopkins and Western Pennsylvania University have also accepted.

Blow at Prize Fighting in Massachu-

In the Massachusetts legislature the committee on the judiciary has reported a bill that "wheever engages in, or gives, or promotes, a public boxing match, or sparring exhibition, or engages in a private boxing match or sparring exhibition, for which promised any pecuniary reward, remuneration or consideration whatsoever, either directly or indirectly, shall be fined not exceeding $200 or imprisoned in the house of correction not exceeding three months, or both."

The Philadelphia club yesterday gave Catcher Buckley his unconditional release. Buckley will be busy coaching the youngsters at the University of Pennsylvania until April 1. It is probable that Buckley will sign with a Western League club. John Cornolly, recently appointed an umpneumonia Sunday night in New York.
The Cincinnati team will leave that city

For women riders the saddle is usually set lower to permit of easy mounting and dismounting, although as they become more proficient they are apt to raise it scmewhat. But by a strange inconsistency, they not only retain the handle bars at a high adjustment, but also with the up-turn. The curves of an upturned handle bar are neither graceful nor useful, because of the required bending of the arms at the elbow. They cause an undue strain, which not only They cause an undue strain, which not only interferes with the ease of steering, but scon tires the rider. The highest grade machines, however, are provided with adjustable handle bars, which can be easily arranged to conform to up-turn or downturn ideas to suit the whim of the rider.

Riding Before Breakfast.

A greatly mistaken notion on the part of the enthusiastic wheelman is that a ride before breakfast is very beneficial. A short ride may be, but in nine cases out of ten it has just the opposite from the desired effect. According to experiments with the dynariometer, a man is precisely his weak-est when he turns out of bed. The muscu-lar force is greatly increased by breakfast, but it attains its highest point after the midday meal. It then sinks for a few hours, and rises again toward evening. The chief foes of muscular force are overwork and the other extreme idlenger. and the other extreme, idleness. Many of the great workers of the world, if not all, have been early risers, but early rising ought always to be supplemented by early

"Britt" Offered $2,600.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 5.-Theodore Breitenstein, the Browns' crack pitcher, who has been holding back, was asked to sign a contract for $2,600. He refused to do so at once, but promised Manager Diddle-bock that he would consider the matter and let him know later.

A Chinaman's Ambition. From the New York Times.

"I had an illuminating talk with our Chinese laundryman around the corner," contributes a woman, "and it was an object lesson in industry and economy. He works, he told me, twenty-four hours out of the twenty-four all the days of the week except Sunday, and on three of them he does not go to bed at all. He earns $20 a week, $5 of which goes for rent and $5 as lease money to the Chinaman who controls his money to the Chinaman who controls his laundry district. He lives on $2 a week and lays by the other $8. His diet is tea and rice. He is striving for $3,000, of which sum he has now more than half. When he has the full amount he will go back to China and live in ease and comfort for the rest of his days. He wants three wives, and one costs $150, but the investment will be a good one, for they can support not only themselves, but him as well, and his superfluous money can be a generous resuperfluous money can be a generous re-serve for emergencies."

thirteen young, all albinos, were reported from California by a correspondent of the same paper. Many individual albino quail are reported and a few albino ruffed grouse. The London Field lately noted the finding of albino and pled rooks, crows and blackbirds and a white house martin. It also told about a white badger that was taken in a weasel trap a short time ago.

A pure white deer and a mottled one were reported killed on Whidby Island in Puget sound lately. Three or more white wild turkeys are known to have been killed during the past fifteen years. One bird in Tennessee was known as the "Old White Witch Turkey." He may not have been a bright bird naturally, but it wasn't very long after he was hatched that he learned that being white was not all comfort. The hen turkeys liked him exceedingly, and one of his offspring, a gray bird, was killed in 1882, while others of light color were seen.

died a natural death in some out-of-the-way clump of bushes.

For many years albinos were thought to be barren, but observation has proved this to be erroneous. One, a female robin, reared a brood of young for five successive seasons up the Hudson, and a number of other sons up the Hudson, and a number of other robins were seen attending young in the vicinity during two or three mating seasons, the young being often oddly colored. Albino robins and squirrels are most frequently seen of the small creatures, while deer are the most numerous of larger albinos. An albino most purpose was presented. pinos. An albino moose was never seen.

Hundreds of bullets were fired at the witch bird, but without success, and he probably

Said to Be the Tallest and Strongest Man in Eastern Maine.

From the Lewiston Evening Journal. John Moriarty, known all over easter: Maine as "Barney Kelley's Giant," died in Oldtown Hospital on Friday, January 24, of typhoid fever. He had been for nearly two years employed as construction hand on the Bangor and Aroostook railroad, and recently on the new Ashland branch, where he became sick, Moriarty stood six feet nine and threequarter inches in his stocking feet, and generally weighed 240 pounds. Had he been fat his weight would have been enormous. But he was very lean. "Why," said Barney Kelley, "you could feed the giant on por-terhouse steak and eggs and he wouldn't gain a pound; but he was an awful tough man!"

His arms were very long and he had hands as powerful as the paws of a gorilla. All over his body the muscles stood out in lumps and cords, and his strength was immense. He could do as much work as two mense. He could do as much work as two ordinary men, and on that account his services were always in demand at more than common wages. He was especially serviceable as a derrick man—he could turn the heavy crank all day without tiring. An ax was like a toy in his hands, a cant-dog like a walking stick. He could up end and shoulder a small lcg or piece of timber that two ordinary men could barely lift, and in every department of heavy manual labor he was a very Hercules.

Many stories are told of the giant's mighty strength. Once, when two saucy together till their teeth rattled-and they were two good-sized mcn.

At another time some toughs came into a bar room where he was and proceeded to "clear the place out." Moriarty took them, two at a time, and pitched them half way across the street as though they were so many nineplus.

Elk for Eastern Park Owners? The American Field publishes a rumor to the effect that the people of Wyoming are much incersed at hunters who are running down and capturing elk calves in that state. Some of the cow elk as well as a large number of the colves are said to be run so far and fast that they drop dead of exhaustion. The men are said to be in the hire of a wealthy New Yorker who has recently established a large game preserve in the east. The capture of live eik is against the laws of Wyoming. The Forest and Stream says that "J. S. Vidal, presecuting attorney of Landes, Wyo., declares he will make an example of one who attempas to run down game out of season." He vill do because pro-fessional hutters "h ve orders to furnish

From the Texas Siftings. "Doctor, didn't I understand you to say that brandy is a good remedy for dyspepsia?" asked a Dallas society lady of her family physician "Yes, Mrs. Yerger, it is an excellent remedy."

"I don't agree with you, doctor. Before I mighty strength. Once, when two saucy woodsmen "guyed" him about his towering height, he seized them by the shoulders, one in each hand, and knocked their heads
